GERMANY DECLARES STATE OF WAR; WORLD PREPARES FOR CONFLICT

Hostilities Now Imminent Unless Russia Entirely Backs Down on Policy

STOCK EXCHANGES CLOSE

America Prepares to Handle Grave Financial Situation Resulting From European Affairs

Germany today declared a "state of war" as its ultimatum to Russia in advising that country to desist from its policy in the Austro-Serbian affair. With that act accomplished all Europe save a few of the smaller unimportant countries is preparing for the most momentous conflict in all history and the world is looking on with bated breath for the beginning of hostilities that it is believed can only end with Europe battered into an unrecognizable mass.

The ultimatum came after the German special council had considered for one day and two nights the critical European situation. It did not come as a surprise. Germany asked Czar Nicholas the significance of his mobilization of troops and the latest news developments indicate that the czar's answer was "unsatisfactory." Russia had taken an attitude plainly indicating its intention to assist Serbia in its fight against its larger rival, Austria.

Stock markets of the world have been affected. This morning the serious aspect of the situation caused the governors of the stock exchange boards in the larger cities of the United States to close down the exchanges. This was an action similar to that taken in 1907 when a grave crisis threatened. Today however, the aspect is different. The close-down is due to the war scare and is simply to enable the markets to adjust themselves to the conditions. It is not thought the suspension of activity at the exchanges will be for a long period. Stocks are expected to recover when the European situation is thoroughly understood.

Today's summaries in the war news shows that England and France are prepared for the worst and that they are both ready for battle with army and navy. The first clash may be in the far east. Things seem to indicate that the alignment of the Triple Alliance of Germany, Austria and Italy against the Triple Entente of England, France and Russia will be solidified. Army mobilization is being continued in Europe. Austrian armies are invading Serbia, which country is protecting itself as well as it can. German battle squadrons are being concentrated. Japan may be drawn into the scrap, and so may China, unwittingly. This would mean as like as not a battering of the face of Asia and a big change in the map. European stock markets have virtually ceased operations. Russia is moving troops into advantageous positions on the German frontier. Pessimism prevails.

Mr. and Mrs. John Maines are planning a trip to Niagara Falls and Buffalo to spend the next two weeks.

STATE ROAD MEN BEGINNING WORK

Westmoreland County Improvements Started—Highway to Lead From Monessen Back Into Country Toward West Newton

Four miles of state road is being built to close the link between Monessen and West Newton. The improved road starts at the Sheetz and Nash farms and extends from there to the Wesley Gardner farm. The road on both sides has already been improved.

This week the engineering corps and a large number of workmen began work on the road. Assistant Engineer L. L. Robinson of the State Highway Department was present to see the work was properly started.

About 30 men and a number of teams are now employed on the highway, under the management of Andrew N. Budd. They have the road bed pretty well torn up and are hurrying preparations for surfacing.

The road is to be completed by December 1. The improved road will cost $7,000 per mile. The expense is to be born by the county, townships, towns and the state.

VALLEY ODD FELLOWS GO ON OUTING

It is estimated that more than 150 Odd Fellows and their families went from here this morning to Kenneywood park to attend the seventh annual outing of the Monongahela valley Odd Fellows. The local picnicers left Charleroi at 8:40 o'clock on the special train which arrived at South Duquesne at 9:32 and were conveyed from there to the park in special trolley cars. The train started from Roscoe.

The committee on sports has arranged all sorts of events for the entertainment of the large crowd of lodgemen and their families that are present. There are races of all kinds. There will be a tug-of-war. Then there will be running, jumping, baseball throwing and a ball game to be played by teams selected from the lodges on the east and west sides of the river.

The officers of the picnic association are Joseph Robinson of Belle Vernon, president; J. K. Marshall of Monessen, vice-president, and L. H. Richards of Monessen, secretary-treasurer. J. M. Fleming of Charleroi is a member of the advertising committee.

WASHINGTON FAIR DATES ANNOUNCED

Dates for the Washington Fair have been set from September 1 to 4 inclusive and the program is being arranged. A. J. Hinrichs, secretary states in a letter that there will be 2,000 head of livestock on exhibition, not including 1,000 head of poultry. A good race program is being prepared.

Little Daughter Dies. Edith Annie, the four months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hurst of 109 Fallowfield avenue died Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Funeral services were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment was in the Charleroi cemetery.

MRS. M. E. M'MAHON

IS DEAD

Injury Sustained July Fourth Leads to Her Demise

WELL KNOWN WOMAN

From complications starting with an injury sustained in a fall while visiting friends in Pittsburgh July 4, Mrs. Mary Ellen McMahon aged 63 widow of the late Alexander McMahon of Monessen died this morning at 12:30 at the Pittsburgh hospital. Wilmerding. She was a member of one of the best known families of this region. Her husband was an owner of farms from which the site of Monessen was taken.

Mrs. McMahon went to Pittsburgh to visit over July 4. While stopping with friends there she suffered a serious fall in which her thigh was broken and other injuries sustained. Pneumonia developed. Several times her life was despaired of and each time she rallied and seemed to regain strength. Within the last few days her health improved wonderfully, so that death came rather unexpectedly.

Mrs. McMahon whose maiden name was Mary Ellen Bailey taught school in early life in Westmoreland county. After a brief period at this work she was wedded to Alexander McMahon, a son of the late Hugh McMahon a noted man of the Monongahela valley. Hugh McMahon was one of the early settlers of the valley who by enterprise and industry procured three farms in Westmoreland county and one in Washington along or near to the Monongahela river. He was an authority on history and geography. From the Westmoreland farms which he left to his heirs, Monessen was cut. Charleroi was cut from a part of the McMahon Washington county farm. Alexander McMahon died three years ago after a life of business and political activity and his brother William of Charleroi followed him into the grave within two years.

Mrs. McMahon is survived by three sons, and seven daughters. The sons are: Hugh, of Wilmerding; Lafayette, of Monessen and Marr, of Monessen. The daughters are: Mrs. Annis Tower, of Texas; Mrs. George Lang, of Belle Vernon; Mrs. Will H. Watson, of Donora; Mrs. F. H. Hoffman, of Jeannette; Mrs. Frank Fellows, of Canton, Ohio; and Misses Nelle and Lois, at home.

A brother Thomas G. Bailey, lived in Charleroi. No funeral arrangements have yet been made.

ARRESTED AT BENTLEYVILLE ON CHARGE OF DESERTION

Daniel Hoke, wanted in Greensburg on a charge of desertion and non-support, was arrested Wednesday at Bentleyville by Sergeant Dent and Private Nicholson of the state police. The warrant was issued in Greensburg last August. Hoke was working on the car line at Bentleyville. He was taken to Monessen by the state police where he will be kept awaiting the Greensburg officers.

Imperial Glass Company to Observe Usual Summer Vacation During August

At 5 o'clock this afternoon the Imperial Glass company's plant here will be closed for the summer vacation during August. On the first of September the factory will be put in operation again. The shutdown is the customary one. Formerly plants operated under an agreement with the bottle blowers union had two months of a summer vacation. Last year was the first for a change to be effected.

JULE JORDON TELLS STORY OF TRAGEDY

Monessen Man Relates Circumstances Surrounding Father's Death

BAD ROADS, HE CLAIMS

Jule Jordan of Monessen, driver of the fatal automobile of Saturday night's tragedy on the Millsboro road when his father, Charles Jordan of Monessen lost his life and he himself was injured, has in an interview given his story of the accident.

Mr. Jordan said that he was ascending a grade on the Millsboro road at 11 o'clock on Saturday night and his lights reflected too high in the air for him to see the road when he landed over the breaker. The front wheels of his car he says came into soft ground about 18 inches from the road proper. He attempted to get back onto the solid road. He managed to get the front wheels on the solid road but the rear wheels sank into the soft earth causing the car to topple over and roll down the hill, carrying all the passengers with it. Mr. Jordan was injured and lay on the ground for a few minutes.

William Boddice and Walter Smith of Monessen, the other passengers in the car hurried to the side of the "elder Jordan," who died in a few minutes. The road is said to be a township road with a width of about 12 feet, where the accident occurred. It is said that the road bank is unguarded save by light fence posts and frail wire and little or no resistance was given when the car started to go over. Mr. Jordan is of the opinion that the accident was due solely to a defective road and not to any fault of his car. It is said that suit may be brought against the township.

Making Renovations. Renovations are being made at the Charleroi Savings and Trust company building. Terra Cotta work is being re-pointed and the fire wall on the top rebuilt.

Pinchot, Lewis, Temple and Acheson Coming Next Week

ROOSEVELT HERE LATER

Head, Heels and Much of Brains of Progressives Expected to Visit Charleroi

Gifford Pinchot, Bull Moose candidate for United States senator, William Draper Lewis, candidate for governor, Congressman Henry W. Temple and members of the Washington county Bull Moose organization, will visit Charleroi for about two hours next Wednesday. They will arrive by automobile at 11 o'clock in the morning, will take dinner at the Wilbur hotel, and will leave in the afternoon for Bentleyville where they will spend a short time and then will travel to Waynesburg.

This will be only the first of the Bull Moose tours, as well as the first tour of any party candidates throughout this region. In the fall shortly before the general election Col. Roosevelt, head, heels and much of the brains of the Progressive party will likely take a tour of the Monongahela valley and stop in Charleroi. With him at that time probably will be Mr. Pinchot and the others. At any rate it is the plan of the Bull Moose contingent that will come next Wednesday to return.

Ernest F. Acheson late congressman will be included in the party which will visit Charleroi next week. Likely Secretary James Vinson will be along and perhaps one or more of the county seat boosters of the party. After dinner is taken at the Wilbur hotel the program will be to receive a number of the Charleroi Progressives and then to visit some of the factories.

Charleroi will be one of the objective points of the Progressive people in the western end of the state. Another objective point will be Waynesburg which is now a Democratic stronghold.

TOMORROW LAST DAY OF EXHIBIT

Saturday is the last day of the demonstration of the Ecothermal Gas Range at the store of T. P. Grant on Fallowfield avenue. During the last two days exhibits have been given and many were the expressions of surprise at the work done by this wonderful range. A special menu has been prepared for tomorrow and is as follows: Roast round steak, beans, rice, sauer kraut, prunes, pie and cake. In addition to this menu a demonstration of bread baking will be given. All those who have not witnessed the work of this range should not fail to be at the store tomorrow at three o'clock. 23-41

GOOD ROADS AS CROP PRODUC-ERS.

That an improved road will increase vastly the productiveness of the area through which it runs has now been satisfactorily demonstrated by studies conducted by the United States Department of Agriculture in Virginia. Conditions in Spotsylvania county were investigated with particular care and the results have proved surprising, says the Washington Observer. According to the report of the department in 1900 the county voted $100,000 to improve 40 miles of roads. Two years after the completion of this work the railroad took away in 12 months from Fredericksburg, the county seat 71,000 tons of agricultural and forest products hauled over the highways to that town. Before the improvement of the roads this total was only 19,000 tons annually; in other words the quantity of the county's produce had risen more than 45 per cent. Still more interesting however, is the increase shown in the quantity of dairy products. In 1909 these amounted to 114,815 pounds in 1911 to 273,923 pounds, an increase of practically 140 per cent in two years. In the same time shipments of wheat had increased 59 per cent, tobacco 31 per cent, and lumber and other forest products 48 per cent.

In addition to this increase in quantity the cost of hauling each ton of produce was materially reduced. In other words, the farmers not only produce more, but produce more cheaply, for the cost of transportation to market is of course an important factor in the cost of production. From this point of view, it is estimated that the $100,000 spent in improving the roads in Spotsylvania county saved the farmers of that county $41,000 a year.

In the past two years the traffic studies of the federal experts show that approximately an average of 65, 000 tons of outgoing products were hauled over the improved roads in the county an average distance of 8 miles or a total of 520,000 "ton-miles." Before the roads were improved it was estimated that the average cost of hauling was 20 cents a "ton-mile;" after the improvement this fell to 12 cents a "ton-mile," or a saving of 8 cents. A saving of 8 cents per mile on 520,000 "ton-miles" is $41,000 a year. The county's investment of $100,000, in other words returns a dividend of 40 per cent annually.

Because this saving, in cases of this character, does not take the form of cash put directly into the farmer's pocket there is a widespread tendency to believe that it is fictitious profit, while as a matter of fact it is just as real a source of profit as an increase in the price of wheat.

In Dinwiddle, county, Va., arms ample, where peanuts are one of the staple crops, the average load for two mules on a main road was about 1,000 pounds before the road was improved. After its improvement the average load was found to be 1,500 pounds, and the time consumed in hauling the larger load to market was much reduced. In other words, one man with a wagon and two mules could do more than twice as much work with the improved road than with an unimproved road. This is the explanation of the extraordinary rise in the total output of agricultural products in a county with a good road system.

THE BEEF SUPPLY

ple will not buy frozen or chilled

When beef as packed in Argentina and refrigerated beef as it is furnished from Canada as the Pittsburg Dispatch

One of the reasons for turning an incredulous ear to this report is furnished by the packets themselves.
They declare that they now control all of the Argentina supply comes to this country. If the country will not buy Argentina beef why should they take the trouble and incur the expense of buying the means of supply? We may have decided doubts of their having such control that a competing dealer could not in Argentina buy more. But when they say one day that they have the control of the market and the next day that no one will buy this Argentina article is the impression of greater anxiety to scare away competition than the beef.

Of course the perfect remedy for this country is to get farmers to use unfertilized or half-fertilized land in growing beef cattle. And one of the first steps to that end is to establish here in every city a market where there will be as much competition in the demand for the beef as there is in the supply of it.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

One of the party supposedly engaged one night recently in the fascinating game of "snipe hunting" got off a good joke at the expense of Burgess Woodward, Constable Frank
W. Jones, of Charleroi and Constable Louis Coven of North Charleroi the day after. The trio of officers broke up the "play" just after the victim had been started on his run. Several names were secured.
"Where you at the burgess' office?" the young man of the party was asked by a friend.
"Yes, I was there all right," he answered, with a twinkle in his eyes.
"Well, did they fine you?"
"No the gang fined them for not arriving on time for the fun." Many of our birds are often called even in looks by names which are misleading. The average young bird student really knows more about birds than the folks who give some of our birds their names. While these birds were as yet suggested by Tom, Dick and Harry would naturally "stick" especially if the names were reminders of the birds the early settlers had known across the sea according to St. Nicholas magazine.

But the "fittin'" names are by no means all due to this cause as we shall see. "Meadow lark" is an example of one kind of misnaming. The real American representatives of the European larks are our Lorned larks.
These are much smaller, more quiet and less showy birds than the big starlings; hence they failed to attract attention.

But these starlings of the open meadows with their habit of singing on the wing, sometimes as they circled to alight, suggested to the people, however remotely, their beloved larks; so they were called meadow larks. "Robin," as applied to our ruddy-breasted thrush, is another example but a less serious one. Even to this day one occasionally hears our bird called "redbreast," as was done by the early colonists on account of the ruddy coloring which it had in common with the English warbler, which they had known so well as
"robin redbreast."

Such there is a suspicion that this is only tentative evidence.

PATRONS OF "MANLY ART"

Five Monarchs of Great Britain Noted for Their Admiration of the Fistic Game.

When King George V recently attended a public exhibition of boxing at the barracks of the Second Life Guards, and applauded the exhibition of the "manly art" furnished by Bombardier Wells and Pat O'Keefe as well as the bouts between soldier pugilists, he did not establish a royal precedent. Every one of the five Georges who have ruled Great Britain has been a patron of boxing and enthusiastic in his admiration of the sport. George II, who ascended the throne just two centuries ago this year, was the first royal boxer. The modern fistic game had its beginning during his reign, when James Figg of Thames, Oxfordshire, became the first champion of England. George I, until his death, did everything in his power to promote the boxing game.
When his son, George II, came to the throne in 1723 he gave royal encouragement to the sport and took private lessons from Figg. The latter is said to have invented the first "boxing gloves" (called "munters"), in order to prevent the possibility of damage to the royal countenance. George III was even more enthusiastic in his admiration of boxing than his predecessors. He boxed well, and a century ago, he gave a boxing show to celebrate the triumph over Napoleon, the spectators including the rulers of Russia and Prussia. An ex-champion, Jem Belcher, was asked to form a coronation guard of honor, composed of boxers, when George IV (a brilliant boxer) was crowned in 1820. William IV was not interested in boxing, and Queen Victoria is said to have sought to stamp it out. Under George V it is apparent that boxing is to be again in royal favor. The king long ago learned how to box.

'UNCLE JOE' RADIATES HUMOR

"Well, boys, I'm on my way to Bermuda to boil out," said Uncle Joe Cannon to a group of New York reporters.
"I hope you'll have cheaper taxicab fares when I get back."

"Do you think our taxicab rates are high, sir?" asked a young lady reporter.

Uncle Joe, chewing the end of his cigar, smiled grimly.

"Did you never hear of the New York house-breaker?" he said. "Well, a house-breaker rose up from behind a hat rack in a New York house as the owner entered late one night."

"Then, up your hands!" he said.

"The owner did so."

"'Glad all yer money!'"

"But said the owner, 'I've just come home in a taxicab!'"

"The house-breaker's atrocious manner changed. He looked at his victim kindly. Then putting his hand in his pocket, he said:

"Here, my poor fellow, is a quarter of a dollar. So long!"

New York's First Steam Ferryboats.

One hundred years ago the first steam ferryboat between New York and Brooklyn, named the Nassau, began running. Two years previously the first steam ferry between New York and New Jersey was established.
For many years, until the opening of the Brooklyn bridge in 1883, the ferry-boats afforded the only method of regular transportation between the two populous cities separated by the East river. In the course of time the service expanded until hundreds of the steam ferryboats were plying between Manhattan and various points on the Long Island and New Jersey shores and the islands in the bay and the East river. With the completion of the tunnels under the East and North rivers the ferry traffic has diminished and doubtless in time will become extinct.

Very Easy.

The late Charles H. Cramp, the Philadelphia shipbuilder, had little sympathy with Socialism, and he used to tell this story:

"I had a Socialist draughtsman in my shipyard," so he would begin.
"The draughtsman said to me one day:

"The world's all wrong, Mr. Cramp.
If I had my way I'd make a new law compelling the rich to divide up everything with the poor and then we'd all start equal. Wouldn't that be grand, eh?"

"Grand? No!" said I. "In ten years after that equal start there'd be the same inequality there is now."

"Then," said the draughtsman, cheerily—"then we'd divide up again.
Divide up every ten years. It's as easy as rolling off a log, ain't it?"

Peruvian Antiquities.

A remarkable collection of Peruvian antiquities, dating back, so archeologists believe, at least 3,000 years, has just been received by the American Museum of Natural History. In the collection are about 500 specimens of Nazca pottery and rare examples of textiles, leather work, and primitive slings decorated with quaint designs.
It is by far the largest collection acquired by any museum in this country. Soon after the museum's collection was forwarded to New York the Peruvian government passed a law prohibiting the shipment of specimens of art to foreign countries. This early Peruvian art is so rare that a museum in Berlin has only four specimens. City of pottery.

Now, for instance, Mr. A and Mr. B, neighboring farmers have a deal, and in settling up, cannot make change. They must necessarily wait until one makes a trip to town, or they may find a neighbor who can help them out, all of which takes time. With a check

WHEAT PRICES GO SKY HIGH

Dollar wheat was reached and passed on the Board of Trade of Chicago Thursday when war talk ran wheat values to the highest pinnacle of the present crisis. December wheat was quoted at $1.10 a few minutes before noon and May futures passed the dollar.

There were no offerings at the pit. The pit was jammed with brokers shouting themselves hoarse and shrieking their bids as prices steadily mounted higher after the opening. In 15 minutes September wheat made an additional jump of three cents and prices for all wheat futures were 6 to 7 cents over last night's close.

The scene in the wheat pit has not been paralleled in years. Brokers sought short found themselves unable to buy the grain when alarming cables from the Liverpool market set the pit seething with excitement.

James A. Patten, famous wheat "king" who is now in Europe and Arthur Cullen, another big Chicago dealer are credited with having made at least $100,000 each by the sudden rise in wheat prices.

C. L. SCHUCK GETS WATER WAGON, BUT MUSTN'T RIDE IT

C. L. Schuck, editor of the Monessen News, was puzzled the other day when he was informed that there was a water wagon at the freight depot for him. He hurried to the freight station and there sure enough was a big water wagon, freight prepaid and ready for use. He made arrangements to take charge of his property when he received word from L. L. Robinson of the State Highway department, that the wagon was for use on the new road, and that it was the property of the state and had been shipped to Mr. Schuck as chairman of the road committee of the Monessen Board of Trade.

SNIPER HUNTERS CHASE ONE GREEK

Sniper hunters garnered in a local Greek in an expedition Thursday night, according to a story that leaked out today. The Greek who shines shoes for a living arrived elegantly upholstered for the evening's enjoyment. He was prepared for geyness and had two packages of chewing gum. Out from town a short distance somebody fired a revolver a few times cruelly close to his ear and he heard somebody yell "run." He lacerated the air with a few shrieks and did as told. Shooting through the ozone as he reached the precincts of civilization he ran amuck a horse. The Greek got the worst of the encounter. But he arrived where he wanted to arrive. Today he is just tired. No arrests have been made in connection with the affair.

DEMURRER FILED IN HALLAM SUIT

In the suit of John W. Hallam, of Washington, as receiver of the Hallam Construction company against H. T. Billick, of Monongahela, the defendant has filed a demurrer to the plaintiff's statement. The suit originally was brought by Mr. Hallam against the Monongahela-Washington street car company for work done on the line between Charleroi and Bentleyville. The amount was $2,500. The trolley company refused to pay the claim alleging that the work had not been done according to specifications. Mr. Hallam then brought suit against the bondsmen, and Mr. Billick is on the bond. He demurs to the statement of the plaintiff setting forth that the right of action was in the name of the Hallam Construction company and not J. W. Hallam as receiver; that he does not allege where, when and how he was appointed receiver and that there is no order of court attached showing that he was appointed receiver. Mr. Billick demurs to the plaintiff's statement because he has set forth no authority for bringing the suit.

DANCES LISTED AT ELDORA PARK

The first week of August will be characterized by two dances at Eldora park that will constitute somewhat of an introductory to that which will follow during the remaining weeks of August. The first of these dates will be that of Wednesday, when the Independent Order Sons of David, of Brownsville, will invade the park for an outing. The second date that will be of significance will be that of Thursday, when Division No. 2 of Charleroi of the Ancient Order of Hibernians will hold their annual summer dance at the park.

The Independent Order Sons of David have made elaborate plans for their outing and will make it a characteristically enjoyable one. The Ancient Order of Hibernians propose to entertain lavishly at their dance. Among those at the head of the arrangements for this dance is Hon. William Feeney of Charleroi.

Congressman Henry W. Temple of Washington will visit the park the week of August 9 when he will speak to members of the G. U. O. of O. F. of Charleroi.

A date has just been booked by the Dunlap club of Brownsville to hold a dance on Wednesday evening, August 19. The following day, August 20, the Belle Vernon Civic league will hold their annual outing at the park. On Saturday, August 22 the miners' big picnic from sub-district No. 3 of District No. 5 of the U. M. W. of A. will be held.

An event of considerable importance on Sunday August 30 will be a visit to Eldora of Eugene Debs, one of the most noted of the Socialists in the country. He will deliver an address on that day.

BLOCK SIGNALS ON RAILROAD WORK WELL

With the completion in September of an elaborate plan of improvements in its automatic block signal system, the Pennsylvania Railroad will have more four-track lines operated under automatic signals than any railroad in the world.

At a cost of $2,000,000 the Pennsylvania Railroad has in the past three years equipped 253 miles of its main lines with automatic signals. On September 1, the main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad between Pittsburgh and New York and Philadelphia and Washington will be equipped with automatic block signals.

The signal system on the Pennsylvania Railroad east of Pittsburgh and Erie represents an estimated investment of approximately $18,000,000. The difficulty in arriving at more than an approximate figure is due to the fact that many changes have been made in the signals from time to time in the past thirty years. The electro-pneumatic interlocking switch and signal system in the New York station and on the electric line between Sunnyside yard, L. I., and Manhattan transfer, N. Y., alone cost $1,750,000. It takes a normal force of 1800 men to maintain the Pennsylvania's signal system. It costs to keep these signals in order no less than $1,500,000 a year.

HOME DEPARTMENT AND CRADLE ROLL RECEPTION GIVEN

The annual home department and cradle roll reception of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church was held on Thursday afternoon in the Sabbath school room of the church. An interesting program was rendered consisting of addresses, recitations and music. Readings were given by Misses Marie Whitehead, Helen Hill and Ruth Swicker. A quarter composed of Misses Emma Clutter, Genevieve Nutt, Ethel Kendrick and Mamie Rockwell gave two selections. The room was decorated in the colors purple and white and that color scheme was carried out in all the appointments. A luncheon closed the afternoon, special tables being provided for the little ones.

Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With The Othine Prescription

This prescription for the removal of freckles was written by a prominent physician and is usually so successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold by druggists under guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of othine and remove them. Even the first few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine; it is this that is sold on the money-back guarantee.

STEAMBOAT RIVAL BURNS TO WATER FROM EXPLOSION

With a loud report not unlike that of a boiler explosion flames shot out of the engine room of the river steamer Rival, belonging to the Monongahela River Consolidated coal and coke company lying in the middle of the Monongahela river Thursday night at Pittsburgh about 7:30 o'clock. The boat was soon enveloped in flames. The flames quickly arrived and fought the flames from the coal barges, which were all around the boat.

What caused the explosion is still to be determined. River captains who were nearby at the time of the explosion stated that the boilers were not damaged. They were of the opinion that several cans of oil in the engine room had exploded.

COUNTY RESERVES CAPTURE FIVE FOR ILLEGAL SELLING

LIQUOR SELLERS Thursday was a banner day in rounding up the violators of the liquor laws in the county. The biggest catch of the day was the capture of B. H. Green, holding license at Mingo Junction, Ohio, and formerly a representative of a brewing company of Allegheny county.

District Attorney R. G. Miller had been after Green for some time. He and his agents are said to have been placing large quantities of beer in the panhandle section of Washington county from their Mingo Junction headquarters. Thursday Green happened to walk across the border into Washington county and Detective J. H. Misted, who was on the job took charge of him. He waived a hearing before Justice J. F. Carmichael at Washington and furnished bail in the sum of $1,000 for his appearance at the August term of court.

Five arrests were made in the borough of Washington during the day for liquor law violations. Some of them are said to have been doing almost a wholesale business.

COMMISSIONERS TO ATTEND CONVENTION

County Commissioners Hill, Barnum and Muncie expect to attend the annual convention of Pennsylvania county commissioners at Erie next month. This is one of the biggest conventions held annually in the state and is also one of the most important. Last year it was held at Williamsport and the year before at Indiana.

In Pennsylvania there are 7 counties. Each county has three commissioners, who are all eligible to attend. In addition to this each county has a right to send its commissioners' solicitors and clerk, making five in all. If all who were eligible should attend there would be perhaps a grand total of 335 persons. Chief Clerk Campbell does not expect to attend the Erie convention and as Solicitor I. W. Baum is in Europe it is probable he will not be present.

PALACE-CHARLEROI

Holding chief interest in the program of the entire week one of the photoplays in the wonderful, widely known series. "The Million Dollar Mystery" was presented Thursday of this week at the Palace theatre. The mystery picture unfolded a few of the adventures of some of the principals in the plot, but only served to envelop the whole in impenetrable mystery. Another good picture of the week was "The Indian's Honor." It was produced on Tuesday night along with others and it portrayed the reliability of an Indian even while facing death. On Tuesday the Pathe weekly was shown in all its details of description of events of daily occurrence the "world over." One of the most remarkable of these was a fire at Moscow. There were numerous other features to embellish the week's program.

LYRIC-CHARLEROI

At the Lyric theatre one of the leading features of the week was "The Secret of the Will" a story surrounded by a deep and mysterious mystery that held interest until the last part in which the mystery was explained and restitution made. "The passing of Diana" a sensational drama was shown on Thursday. The story was one of a jealous girl who planned to destroy her supposed rival. While running her automobile at a high rate of speed with her intended victim at her side the machine crashed over a steep precipice and the girl was dashed to death while her companion escaped. "The Candidate for Mayor" was another sensational picture. Among the comedy pictures were "Snakeville Romance," a western comedy drama and "The Rival Undertakers." On Saturday the last picture of the "Adventures of Kathlyn" will be shown.

COYLE-CHARLEROI

One of the leading features of this week's program at the Coyle theatre was "Her Ragged Knight." This production had in its leading role Miss Florence Lawrence, a noted movie actress. "The Hopes of Blind Alley" a three part special was shown on Thursday. In it was found a drama of intense interest with a picturesque setting and an engrossing story. One of the most thrilling of western thrillers was the "Cameo of Yellowstone," a decidedly sensational western production that displayed to advantage the beauty of the western hills in its portrayal of a pretty story of true heart interest. "A Barrier Broken" was the title of another good feature which also dealt with the unsettled west. Other good pictures were, "Bill No. 1," "Love and Lilies," "Those College Days" and "The Lady of the Island."
